Thursday Morning, May 22, 1862. The Charge of Conspiracy.

Mr. J. M. Robertson, accompanied by his counsel, (Mr. Ring and Mr. Bishop,) appeared in the Police Court yesterday to attend the continuation of the examination into the charge of conspiracy to defraud the creditors of Aimé Marchand

At the opening of the Court, Mr. Ring said he wished to call the attention of his learned friend for the prosecution (Mr. McCreight) to a paragraph in the DAILY COLONIST of the 8th of April last, which paragraph, if taken in connection with the letter of Robertson to Marchand's brother, fully explained the cause of Robertson writing in fully explained the cause of Robertson writing in the manner described at the previous examination of the case. The paragraph reads: "The runaway [Marchand] is supposed to have had about $3000 in his possession at the time of decamping." This paragraph. Mr. Ring said, Robertson read on the evening of the same day on which the letter was written, and it was with a desire to clear himself of rumors which were spread about rown to the effect that he had the $3000 in his possession that he wrote the letter. The learned counsel added that it was contrary to Mr. Robertson's wish that Marchand should live in his house; but Mrs. Robertson had in days gone by been under deep obligations to Mrs. Marchand (the mother of the convict), and thought that it devolved on her, as a debt of gratitude, to look after the young man while he remained in this place, and so permitted him to reside under the same roof with her family. Rev. Mr. McFie could testify to this fact if necessary. When Robertson told Goldstone that he believed Marchand had gone to Esquimalt, he really believed that he had done so, and a document signed by Marchand on the evening of his absconding (with Mr. Solicitor Dennex as witness), shows that he could not have been 25 miles away at Cowichan at that time. In conclusion, Mr Ring asked the learned counsel for the prosecution and the Court if it was necessary to proceed further with the case?

Mr. McCreight said that the paragraph quoted from the Colonist certainly threw light on the subject, and as there was no evidence to send the case before a jury, he must withdraw from the prosecution.

The Court could not see that the paragraph existence the letter; it did not say that Robertson the manner described at the previous examination

The Court could not see that the paragraph explained the letter; it did not say that Robertson had taken the money.

Mr. Ring.—No, it does not, but connecting the paragraph with the charges which were made against Robertson of having the $3000, it was the cause of the letter being written.

The Court would like a witness to prove that point, said the defence introduced the daughter of Mr. Robertson.

The Court would like a witness to prote appoint, and the defence introduced the daughter of Mr. Robertson.

Mrs. Louise II. Harcey, — Remembered the Colonist newspaper being brought to her father's house on the evening of the Stn of April last; her father became excited upon reading a report in said paper and said that he was accused of having taken $3000. Mrs. Robertson requested him to write to Marchand's brother respecting the matter, and he did so; witness knows that rumors were affoat of her father having had some of Marchand's honey, and it was on account of hearing some of those rumors that her father wrote the letter on the evening of the same day that the statement appeared in the Colonist; the day on which Marchand absconded ne wanted to borrow witness' father's horse to go to Esquimalt; he went away but returned again at 10 o'clock on the same night; Mr. Robertson was not in the house when Marchand came for the horse.

Mr. McCreight again stated that he withdrew from the prosecution, and the Court thereupon dismissed the case.

ТИВ АТТЕМРТ ТО SHOOT.—John Welch was plased in the Police Court dock yesterday on a charge of having snapped a pistol at J. H. Davis. on Saturday night last, and threatened to spill his blood. The difficulty originated about squawswho seem to be at the bottom of nearly every row which occurs in this country. Both men worship-ped Venus at the same shrine, and (as is usual in such cases) the green eyed monster soon appeared and caused the rivals much unhappiness. On Saturday night last, Davis seems to have been the successful suitor, and matters were brought to a culminating point by Welch appearing (as was a culminating point by when appearing (as acharged) at the former's house and, thrusting a pistol through a broken pane of glass, snapping it at the man who had supplanted him in the affections of his sweetness. Welch m-de a long statement to the magnistrate—saying that he had not visited the house of Davis at all on the night in question, never attempted to shoot him, and ending that so far as he was concerned od be ween them. The magis-under his own recognizances trate placed Welch under his own recognizance to keep the peace for secononths, and dismiss the charge of attempt to stoot.

The charge of perjury preferred against the master of the vessel in swearing that the vessel was in ballast when a quantity of goods was stowed in the lower bold, was dismissed, it appearing, on examination, that he had done so unwittingly. As it was proven conclusively that the goods select were all shipped at San Francisco for the Sound, there was no object to be gained in furnishing a flase manifest, and it is generally believed that the case will fall to the ground before in reaches the higher Court. be imposed on her owners in case a conviction for

-Richard Hovey, for break ing glasses in the Miner's Restaurant, Johnson street, was fined 50s. The complainant in the case wished to withdraw the complaint, but the Police Magistrate declined to permit him to do so, re-marking that the colony had been pur to expense and its orders to trouble in arresting the offender, and the charge must be prosecuted. It is too frequently the case in this place that persons arrested for the commission of minor offences seasoe sootfree through the refusal of the complainants to appear and prosecute when the matter is before the court, and we observe with pleasure that Mr. Pemberton is disposed to put an end to the practice in future. and its officers to trouble in arresting the offender, Jingo, "Re., &.

The Speaker—Will the honorable member explain what he means by "by Jingo?"—It don't sound Parliamentary, although it may be.

Debate in the Vancouver Island Parliament.

Now, Mr. Editor, as in the foregoing it would seem that the Honorable the Speaker is somewhat at fault as to the meaning or origin of the term "by Jingo," I trust you will publish the following for his benefit as well as for the benefit of the Hon. Member who used the adjuration, and who neglected to afford the information required by Mr. Speaker.

Upon reference to a curious black letter volume formerly in the possession of a very ancient family in Kent, I find that the expression occurs in a race old ballad, of which the following is a portion:

"A Franklyn's dogge leped over a style,
And hys name was littel Byngo;
B with a Y— Y with an N—
N with a G— G with an O—
They called him littel Byngo.

"Thys Franklyn, Syrs, he brewed goode ale,
And he called it rare goode styngo,
S, T, Y, N, G, O,
He called it rare goode styngo.

"Now is notte thys a pretty song?
I think it is, bye Jyngo!
J wythe a Y, N, G, O,
I sweare yt is by Jyngo!"

St. Jingo or Gengo (properly Gengulphus), sometimes styled "the living Jingo" from the great tenaciousness of vitality exhibited by his several members, as is fully related in the legend bearing his name, and recorded in the volume above alluded to.

NORFOLK CAPTURED

ADVANCE OF THE FEDERALS.

The steamship Oregon, Capt. Connor, from San Francisco on the 13th inst. via Portland, arrived at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with about 180 passengers and a small freight. The news, which will be found below, is highly important:

BALTIMORE, May 8.—The following is from the American's account of the battle of Williamsburg:

The battle of Monday was a warmly con-tested engagement. Owing to the rough ness of the country and bad condition of the ness of the country and bad condition of the roads, but a small portion of our troops could be brought into action. Gen. Sickle's brigade and Gen. Hooker's division bore the brunt of the battle. They fought most valiantly throughout, although they were greatly outnumbered by the enemy, who also had a superior position. The approaches to the earthworks were through ravines and swamps, while the rain fell in torrents throughout the day. The men had also been lying on their arms all the previous night and were soaked, and the rain chilled them with cold.

The battle raged from early morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when McClellan arrived with fresh troops and relieved Hookdivision, who were nearly prostrate with fatigue.

After the arrival of McClellan, the enemy were fiercely charged on by Hancock's brigade, and were driven within their works before nightfall with a heavy loss. Nearly 700 of their dead were left on the field, with many wounded, though most of the wounded were carried into Williamsburg.
